

Part 2: The Raincloud of Knowable Things

There are two sources of information/insight that we can access: “The Raincloud of Knowable Things” and the “known and manufactured cloud”

- a. The contents of the “Raincloud of Knowable Things” have to pass the Reality Check before they qualify to be in that database. They must be based on God’s three powers: Truth, Love, Willpower or Divine Direction. The Divine Principles of Beauty, Goodness, Righteousness, Joy, Freedom, Striving, Sacrificial Service rule the content and propel it into every field of human endeavor.
- b. The “known and manufactured cloud” is based on humanity’s physical, emotional, mental conditions, expectations, fears, desires, affiliations. If they are limited only to these three levels and are based on survival and exclusiveness, they are prone to manipulation and control as their focus. These can be on the “ground level” of depravity and manipulation; or they can be selfless and loving and caring as they expand into greater inclusivity. In general, survival, vices and addictions and power struggles rule the content of this database. They only pass through the quality of the bodies of the “influencers”. These “influencers” can be good, business-like, personally dedicated to social-political-religious beliefs; they can be affiliated with national or party needs; they can be totally business-oriented or power-oriented, or they can be in various degrees of careless, selfish, separative, or even evil in tune with dark forces. The core values that qualify this cloud are me, me, me; my, my, my!

As we study the lives and Teachings of Great Ones, we will find instructions and inspiration from those who built a connection to The Raincloud of Knowable Things and used it to guide every part of their lives. They overcame the past and propelled themselves far into the future that they never before dreamed was possible. In every department of human endeavor, these courageous souls continue to bless us and inspire us.
