

Part 3: The Choice

There are many examples in the world of how mature human beings from all walks of life contacted the Raincloud of Knowable Things and created the culture and civilizations that we have today in libraries, museums, beautiful art works and designs, university collections. Books on every known subject, artwork, music, architecture, all are everywhere exemplifying how people connected to the Raincloud and expressed it in life. These examples show the path of the Sacred Life.

We also see the results of the “known and manufactured cloud” daily in our social media, toxic political and business practices, separatism and hatred and every vice we can think of being broadcast daily on our devices. We are glued to these energies and are influenced by them every minute of our life.

Unless we deliberately take the time and effort to find the sacred life, we will find that we are engulfed with the vibratory energies of manipulation.

In our journey for the Sacred Life, we must grow up. We must grow out of the domination of our physical, emotional, and lower mental bodies. We must push and grow beyond so we are no longer influenced by the “known and manufactured cloud.”

This is by no means easy! We are professionally pulled into it “hook, line, and sinker”! As long as we voluntarily keep our attention on these influencers, we have no chance to reach outside of it let alone find out sacredness in life.

The Ageless Wisdom Teachings give us a map in order to stop giving our power away to those who manipulate and use us. The process is totally doable, preferable, and forms the basis for all the spiritual work that we want to do, yearn for, and hope for.

The Sacred Life must be a deliberate step that we take every day on the path of our life.
